UK Transport & Logistics Leaders Fraser Eagle go for Dmax Studios' Corporate CMS Systems

This vibrant new-look website reflects the ever-growing activity across Fraser Eagle Group... Not only does it increase our corporate profile, but is easier for our clients and customers to navigate'

*Kevin Dean
Group Managing Director
Fraser Eagle Group*

UK based Fraseragle Group has been given a new-look corporate website to reflect the changes across its international operations over the last 18-months.

Potential customers logging onto the website can now find information on all the Fraser Eagle Group businesses and special features include 360 degree tours, product catalogue functions, product photo galleries and a dedicated press area.

Dmax developers analysed Fraser Eagle requirements and hand-in-hand with the in-house design team created a concept that met the stringent quality targets.

The website was designed and developed by Dmax, using 'Dmaxim', its .Net based, internationally tested corporate web Content-Management-System.

About Fraser Eagle Group

Fraser Eagle Group is a multi-million pound group of companies delivering customised corporate transport solutions.

Providing a nationwide, round-the-clock service to rail and airline companies, event organisers, local authorities and large corporate clients, Fraser Eagle is an expert in nationwide passenger transport logistics.

Using two 24-hour control centres and a nationwide database of approximately 5,000 coach and taxi operators, we transport thousands of people on a daily basis.

Fraser Eagle was established in 1919 as a regional coach operator and still runs its own coaching division today with tours and excursions across the UK and Europe.

Our diverse range of businesses also includes an international interior design and contract furnishing company, an independent travel agency and a quality used-car dealership.
